WHO WE ARE

The University Air Squadron (UAS) is RAF Volunteer Reserve unit which provides undergraduates the opportunity to learn to fly military aircraft, participate in sport, adventure and leadership training like no other university society can match.

UAS training is structured around your degree, allowing you to do as much or little as you like. You'll have access to a fully tailored flying training course, progressing through basic handling to flying solo!

If adventure training is your forte, you will be able to go sailing, scuba diving and skiing at the fraction of the normal cost and even become an instructor in the wide range of these activities.

WE PAY YOU a pro-rata daily rate of around £40, up to a maximum of 35 days pa. In addition, we will refund your travel costs to RAF Northolt (personal contribution and exclusions apply).
